STEAD SAYS IT'S BRIBERY

Attorney General Gives Ruling in Regard to Pledging Return of Fees

SAME AS BUYING VOTES

Recalls Case of Governor Deneen in Which Suit was Brought to Recover Fees He Promised Never to Exact

Candidates for elective offices who appeal for votes on the promise that they will turn back into the treasury any part of their salary if elected are placed in the category of "bribers" by Attorney General Stead of Illinois.

In an opinion handed down Wednesday the Attorney General not only declares that such a promise should be considered as offering a bribe, but holds that it is making the office a subject of barter and sale.

"Most reprehensible," the chief law officer of the state adds in setting forth what the courts have universally held as to this practice.

If this construction were to be upheld, then several treasurers and other custodians of public moneys in Cook county and Illinois are guilty of this species of bribery, as the Attorney General interprets the word.

Former County Treasurer John J. Hanberg of Cook County, now commissioner of public works in Mayor Busse's cabinet, pledged the voters that if he should be elected he would turn back into the treasury the interest earned on deposits.

County Treasurer John R. Thompson made the same pledge.

Former State's Attorney John J. Healey, after a taxpayer's suit had been instituted to force Governor Deneen to return the $246,000 he collected in fees while state's attorney, or a large portion of it, in addition to his salary, announced that he would keep $10,000 as his salary and turn over the receipts of his office over to the county authorities.

In the state campaign of 1906 John F. Smulek made one of his platform planks the pledge to turn back into the treasury the interest on state funds if he should be elected.

The question was brought before the Attorney General by Alf E. Clarke of Clara, Ill., who was a candidate for collector of Mayfield township. Clarke made a proposition to the voters that if they would elect him he would turn his salary over to the road commissioners to be used by them in improving the public highways. His opponent objected to this style of campaign and raised the legal point that it was in effect a deliberate attempt to bribe the voters without regard to the qualifications of the respective candidates for the office.

Clarke's proposition was published in the newspapers of his district and made the principal plank in his campaign platform.

The Attorney General calls attention to this publicity given the proposal of Mr. Clarke and then says:

"Your appeal for votes is made upon the basis of the cheapness, with which you will discharge your duties. You propose to make the office not subject of qualification but a subject of barter and sale. Under the American theory of government public offices are not hawked about to the lowest bidder, irrespective of qualifications.

Whenever our courts have passed upon this question, they have denounced without equivocation, the sale of public offices as most reprehensible. The conclusion of the Missouri courts is summed up in the following syllabus:

Bribery of the Public by the Candidates for office—It is unlawful for any public officer holder to make offers to the voters to perform the duties of the office, if elected, for less than the legal fees. An election secured by means of such offers is void."

The Rare Gift of Courtesy.

Courtesy includes not merely social kindness, graces of speech, absence of rudeness, but honorable treatment of all business associates, and of all the fellow citizens with whom a man of affairs may have business to transact. It is not American to keep one citizen waiting all day at the door because he is poor, and to grant another citizen an interview because it is believed he is rich. Wisdom is not confined in a purse, and frequently much wisdom may be learned from a poor man.

THE "RATS" ARE TO GO

Waukegan Girls and Women Plan to Lay Aside False Hair

It is said that there is a move on foot among Waukegan young women to put a ban on the wearing of rats and all kind of false hair. If this is true it will start one of the most sensible crusades of recent years. For the rat and false hair are not only unsightly but they are unhealthful and their abandonment will be a good thing for the American woman.

Along this same line the word has reached here from Paris that false hair is going out of style in France and that in the course of a few months French women will be wearing their own hair only. Paris has been the emanating point of many freak styles but once a style comes from there it may be copied with credit.

It is a peculiar fact that American women wait to get their tips from Paris instead of making America an originating point for styles. Now it is to be hoped that this sensible style which comes here from the style center will be copied.

Just what started the reported move in Waukegan is not known but it may have resulted from the reports which came from Chicago to the effect that so many girls in a Chicago department store became ill of leprosy as a result of handling false hair. If rats are worn it is said that only the wire kind will be used.

There are several reasons why girls and women should not wear false hair. In the first place much of the false hair is cut from the heads of corpses while much of it comes from Europe where it is cut from the heads of peasant girls who part with it for the sake of a small compensation. If girls would only realize this fact they would save much misery and the move be as laudable as was that which has practically done away with the wearing of birds on hats.

The convention to arrange for the picnic was to be held at Kenosha Tuesday. Every camp in the association is entitled to send one or more delegates to this convention.

The Art of Seeing Things.

The art of seeing things is not something that may be conveyed in rules and precepts; it is a matter vital in the eye and ear, yea, in the mind and soul, of which these are the organs. I have a little hope of being able to tell the reader how to see things as I would have in trying to tell him how to fall in love or to enjoy his dinner. Either he does or he does not, and that is about all there is of it.—John Burroughs.

HODGE AGAINST STEARNS

Man Who Cleaned Up Highwood Wishes to Go to Legislature

BATTLE ROYAL IS ASSURED

Announcement for Legislature Means His Retirement From the Fight Against County Superintendent Simpson

From the Waukegan Sun of March 8: John Hodge, Antioch superintendent of schools and a well known educator of wide experience, will contest with Representative A. K. Stearns for the next nomination of the Republican party for Lake county's representative for this district.

Mr. Hodge, when interviewed last night over the long distance telephone admitted that he would be a candidate. "I am in the field to win," he said, "and I am getting all kinds of backing."

Mr. Hodge is perhaps best known for his excellent work in leading the hot fight against the blind pigs and disorderly resorts of Highwood, a step which both the dry people and the wet people approved, the dries from principle and the wets because the blind pigs hurt the legitimate saloons. Mr. Hodge also led in the fight against Mayor Hogan and to him more than to any one in Highwood is due the election of Mayor Severson and the present city council and officers.

The fact that Prof. Hodge will make the run for state representative against Stearns cleans up what had fair to be a hard fight for the county superintendent of schools and leaves the field clear for County Superintendent Simpson, who is a thoroughly competent and efficient official, whom the people elect to stay.

Mr. Hodge thought of making this run but the state office and the race for it offer a wider range for his talents and he is in the race, win or lose.

There is no one in the county who can say a derogatory word of John Hodge. An easterner by birth, he came here to teach school at Barrington and after a successful career there came to Highwood where he became superintendent of schools. There he became involved in politics and as the leader of the clean and decent majority cleaned up the gangsters and the people who were for a bad Highwood at that time. While this earned their enmity, it does not trouble Mr. Hodge as he is firmly fixed in the affection of the big majority in Highland Park and Highwood.

He is now superintendent of the Antioch schools and has greatly endeared himself to the people there by his efficient work.

That he will receive a large support in his race against Stearns seems to be without question.

COUNTY WILL PAY BURIAL EXPENSES OF FIRST COUNTY CLERK

Attorney C. T. Heydecker made a touching and effective plea before the board of supervisors Monday, for a simple headstone and burial expense for the late Ames Waterman, the first county clerk and the first clerk of the board of supervisors in this county.

Waterman died at the Libertyville poor farm where he had a room and lived for some years, but was not buried on the farm, Attorney Heydecker and Libertyville people agreeing to bury the first county clerk in the Libertyville God's acre and then ask the county to stand the expense.

Attorney Heydecker told of Waterman's career and life to its close and in simple phrases and with quiet eloquence won the board.

Court Dress of Laureate.

Tennysen's court dress, when he received the laureateship, did not cost him much, for it was the same court dress worn by Wordsworth, who in turn had it from the old poet Rogers, and it is still in the Wordsworth family. It is a wonder how Tennysen and Wordsworth got into it, for Rogers was a little fellow. Tennysen had no passion for courts, and so he went in second-hand to save cost.

Some of the ministers are asking again why the church attendance is small. Perhaps it is because the Sunday papers are so large.

TAKEN ON SERIOUS CHARGE

Prominent Men of Salem are Taken to Kenosha on a Conspiracy Charge

TROUBLE IS RENTED FARM

Tenant Arrested When He Starts to Drive a Herd of Cattle Away From the Farm Last Week

The town of Salem had some real excitement last week culminating from the arrest of four of the leading men of the town on charges of conspiracy. The men arrested included Hugh Minnis, Lester Minnis, his son, Herman Shesleske, a deputy sheriff, and John D. Riggs. They were taken into custody by Sheriff Gunter on a warrant issued on complaint of Mrs. Joseph Dexter. They are charged with conspiring to injure the business of Maynard Dexter, a tenant on the Minnis farm. Just to complicate the case Dexter himself was taken into custody by Deputy Sheriff John Mutz on a charge of taking away a herd of cattle belonging to Minnis.

Dexter has been on the Minnis farm for a little less than a year and it is alleged that he was working the farm on shares. Joe Riggs, who has moved down from Schenington, is the new tenant. Dexter's time was up March 1st, but Riggs went on the place to do some work before that date. There has been a contest over the ownership of the cattle on the farm for some time, and Shesleske, Riggs and the younger Minnis had been sent to the farm to prevent their being removed. There had been numerous words passed between Dexter and the other men and Mrs. Dexter went to Kenosha and secured the warrants charging conspiracy. It is alleged that as soon as the men so charged left Salem Dexter proceeded to put into effect a piece of Napoleonic strategy. He is alleged to have appeared at the Minnis place, and gathering a bunch of cows, started for his new home in Illinois. Interested women folks saw the act, promptly telephoned to Kenosha where the Salem men had just arrived, and the latter planned to counteract the move. By using the telephone they soon had the only Mutz on the trail. The latter stopped the cavalcade on Duffy's hill. It was heading for the Siedschlag place, just across the state line. Riggs claimed a part of the cows and these Mutz took, and the rest proceeded on their journey. Riggs, later in the day got the cows from Mutz and drove them back to Salem.

The four men charged with conspiracy asked for an adjournment of the hearing for a week and they were released on their own recognizance.

On account of the prominence of the men connected with the trouble their arrest has caused a great deal of excitement in Salem. Dexter, it is said, is arrested on a technical charge of grand larceny but it is thought that there will be some way round to reach an agreement between the parties without this charge being pushed.

GONE TO HER REWARD

Mrs. Frank Kline Is Dead After Long Sickness With Consumption

Early Saturday morning of last week Mrs. Frank Kline who for many months had been a sufferer from a dread disease consumption, passed quietly away at her home at Loon Lake. All that loving hands could do or that money could buy was lavished upon her, but the ravages of the disease could not be staid and on Saturday the fifth of March, after uncomplainingly passing through months of suffering she quietly passed away.

Mrs. Kline's maiden name was Mary Padeven. She was born in Austria on the tenth day of August 1848, being sixty-one years of age at the time of her death. In the fall of 1890 she decided to come to America and sailing for this country arrived in Chicago in the month of December. She remained there only a short time and on the twenty-eighth day of April, 1891, she was united in marriage to Frank Kline, who was at the time an employee at the Loon Lake ice house, and came at once to Loon Lake to reside. Here their entire married life has been spent, and by her death a vacant place that will not soon be filled has been left in the community in which she has resided for the past twenty years, and her death will be sincerely mourned by a large number of neighbors and friends.

No children were born to them and she is survived only by her husband and one sister whose home is in Austria.

The funeral services were held at the M. E. church on Monday afternoon at two o'clock, with Rev. F. R. McNamer officiating. The remains were laid at rest in the Antioch Hillside cemetery.

MRS. LORD WINS THE DECISION IN IMPORTANT CASE

Master in Chancery Elam Clarke Friday afternoon completed his report in the case of Mrs. W. F. Lord vs. Miss Genevieve Reed, and decided in favor of Mrs. Lord. The decision in effect held that the Master believes that the $7,500 farm at Deep Lake, given to Miss Reed by Lord when he was "courting her" was attained by undue influence but that no resulting trust arose as a result.

The case will be contested by Miss Reed before the circuit court and it will be carried to the supreme court before it is dropped. Miss Reed's attorneys declare they are undaunted by the Master's report.

The case has attracted much interest as the claim of Mrs. Lord was that her husband, formerly assistant traffic manager of the Wisconsin Central railroad was under the hypnotic influence of Miss Reed, who was formerly his stenographer, and that he had planned to divorce her in order to be able to marry Miss Reed.

URNS OVER $590 TO COUNTY SCHOOL FUND

Ralph Dady, state's attorney of Lake county, has made his annual report to the county court and the same is on file. Mr. Dady has turned over to the school funds of the county the sum of $590 during the year ending March 1.

In making his campaign to obtain the office Mr. Dady stated from public platform that he would turn over to the public school funds the fees to which the same was entitled, following in line with Mr. Hanna, who had held the office of state's attorney, and this pledge he is keeping to the letter as the public records show.

This is Mr. Dady's first annual report, his previous report having been for a part of the year only.

Mr. Dady report shows that the state treasurer gets $81 and the County of Lake, $510.

Other figures of interest.
Fees earned and uncollected, $1,325.
Earned and collected, $1,015.
Fines collected, $1,907.
Back fees collected since last report, $200.
Fines collected since last report, less 10 per cent, state's attorney's fees for collecting same, $190.70.

SHURTLEFF ON THE WATERWAY

Lake County's Share Would be in the Neighborhood of $200,000

McHENRY COUNTY $150,000

Few Will Favor Bond Issue for Waterway if Cost of Governor's Bill is Understood by the People

The deep waterway has received considerable attention at Springfield during the extra session of the legislature. While many parts of Illinois expressed a desire at the polls to go ahead with the waterway project, there seems now to be a sort of reaction in some quarters and many are wondering if it would not be a great deal better after all to spend $20,000,000 on improving the roads in Illinois rather than dig a canal that will cost several times that amount before the job is completed. At least that is the way the matter looks to the more conservative of the lawmakers, who are expressing themselves as opposed to voting this huge tax on the state without knowing what the cost will be in the end.

Lake county's share of these waterway bonds would be $200,000, while McHenry county would have to pay $150,000 and Boone $300,000. And these figures are said to be conservative estimates of the cost of a project that the people knew but little about when they voted to issue bonds of twenty million dollars, which is only a trifle of what the cost would be in the end.

Members of the Illinois house and senate outside of Chicago, where most of the clamor for a deep waterway comes, are shy of pledging themselves on the subject, well knowing that it is a question they will have to answer to their constituents later. There would be much more reason in a legislator from a country district supporting a bond issue for a like amount to build hard roads in Illinois than to want the money spent for a deep waterway, for the former would be a greater benefit to this state than the waterway.

Speaker Shurtleff in the house and Senator McKenzie in the senate, both from country districts, have taken prominent parts in opposing the deep waterway. Mr. Shurtleff gave out an interview last week in which he made the following declarations that will be read with interest by his constituents in this legislative district on a subject in which they are vitally concerned:

"When the taxpayers of the various counties of Illinois figure up what percentage of the $20,000,000 bond issue each county will have to bear, I believe there will be few supporters for the governor's bill," said the speaker. "In my district Lake county's share will be $200,000; McHenry county, $150,000; Boone county, $300,000. The share of McLean county will be $300,000; of Jo Davis county, $150,000, and of DeKalb county, $150,000.

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the bond issue was submitted to the people on the theory that the state owned the water power rights in the Desplains river, and that the income realized from the water power would pay the interest and principal of the bonds. At the request of the governor, to remove any doubt of the state's rights in the Desplains river, we passed a bill declaring it to be a navigable stream. In a message to the legislature the governor said that there were any doubt of the state's ownership of the water power the people probably would not endorse the bond issue."

"After the people endorsed the bond issue the supreme court of this state overturned the governor's contention, declared the Desplains river to be non-navigable, and the water power rights to be private property of the shore owners."

"The state of Illinois owns no water power rights in the valley and will not own any unless it buys them, or unless the supreme court of the United States reverses the state supreme court. If the state must buy water power rights it will take more than $20,000,000 to buy them, and then the bond issue will have been spent and nothing done on the waterway."

The Shame of Our Abandoned Ships

By James Creelman

COPYRIGHT BY PEARSON PUBLISHING CO.

THE 22,000-ton battleship Utah slid down the ways a few weeks ago a smiling girl swung a bottle of champagne at the end of a gay ribbon and smashed it against the bow of the greatest fighting ship in existence.

A roar of 10,000 voices greeted the mighty steel hull as it struck the salt water. The sheer force of its weight swept a mile and a half into the gray fog against the combined power of four tugboats sent to stop it.

Magnificent! glorious! Yet the same week that saw the largest and costliest battleship in the world launched under the American flag from an American shipyard witnessed the humiliating spectacle of two American merchant steamships, Finland and Kroonland, transferred to the Belgian flag because they could not be operated without loss under the American flag, thus leaving only six American steamships in the whole transatlantic trade, where once America was supreme.

The American navy has become the second naval power, while the American flag is being rapidly driven from the foreign trade of the world at a time when international commerce has assumed imperial proportions.

Does it thrill the American imagination and stir the national pride to read of the American merchant ships and seamen that once made the stars and stripes emblem of courage, enterprise and success on all the seas and oceans? Then consider these plain facts:

In the past year not one keel of an American ship for the foreign trade was laid.

In the same period not a merchant ship carrying the American flag passed through the Suez canal.

The American tramp steamship has practically disappeared from foreign trade.

Our ship tonnage in the foreign trade has shrunk from 2,496,894 tons in 1891 to 940,088 tons in 1908, a shrinkage of 1,556,806 tons of American foreign shipping in 17 years.

No American steamship line connects us with South America, beyond Venezuela and Panama. Not a single American steamship goes to Brazil, Argentina, Chili or Peru.

The most convenient means of traveling from any of the great Atlantic ports of the United States to South America is by way of Europe, involving two voyages across the Atlantic ocean. That, too, is the most regular and sometimes the quickest route for mail between the United States and South America—our greatest natural market, which we defend from foreign spoliation according to the Monroe doctrine. There is absolutely no American mail service south of the Caribbean sea.

Two years ago the Oceanic Steamship Company of San Francisco withdrew its steamers carrying the American mails to Australasia. Even with the mail subsidy of $16,669 a voyage paid by the United States it could not compete with German subsidies of $41,604 a voyage, French subsidies of $47,814 a voyage, Japanese subsidies of $21,917 a voyage and British subsidies of $23,077 a voyage.

In three years the number of American steamships regularly crossing the Pacific has shrunk from fifteen to six.

Alas for our renown as a maritime nation and for the past prestige of our flag in the commerce of even the most distant countries! Where now is the American merchant fleet that once mastered every sea—the nursery and background of our naval power.

It is almost gone. No more American vessels are being built for the foreign trade and, as ships wear out and die, a few years under present conditions will see the American flag disappear from international commerce.

Our hearts beat high when we think of our noble array of battleships. We cheer as the mighty Utah is launched. We watch with a growing thrill of pride the flagging of the Panama canal. We are a great nation now. We sit in the world council of the great powers. We are the protector of the American republics. We saved the Chinese empire from destruction. We brought peace to Japan and Russia. Our foreign trade has expanded to three and a half billions of dollars annually.

But in 1826, 85 years ago, 92 per cent. of our commerce with other countries was carried on by American ships, and to-day only 10 per cent. of our imports and exports is borne under the American flag. More than 63 per cent. of British foreign trade is carried in British ships.

We have spent hundreds of millions of dollars to build a great navy. We have added an empire to our national territory and hoisted our flag in the Philippines, Hawaii, Porto Rico and the Panama canal zone. Yet nine-tenths of all our foreign commerce is under foreign flags, and it is estimated that American shippers pay $200,000,000 annually in ocean freight rates and fares to our rivals in American trade.

Not a new American ship being built for that trade, the remaining few are rapidly wearing out and our flag being hauled down on some of these.

But beyond the dwindling of the American ship building trades; beyond the surrender of $200,000,000 in freight charges to our foreign rivals; beyond even an honest and wholesome pride in our flag at sea; beyond the mortifying lack of an ocean mail service possessed by other nations—there are even graver consequences to the disappearance of the American ship from international trade.

We send forth a great fleet to show both the civilized and uncivilized world the immensity of our armed power. That fleet is powerless without coal. Yet all but 13 per cent. of the coal sent to keep our battleships alive is carried in foreign merchant ships.

It is a matter of record that the small army provided by the United States for the last intervention in Cuba was taken there in foreign ships, under foreign flags.

Even American war material sent recently to the Philippines was carried in Japanese ships under the Japanese flag; and that, too, while there was widespread newspaper talk of a possible war between the United States and Japan.

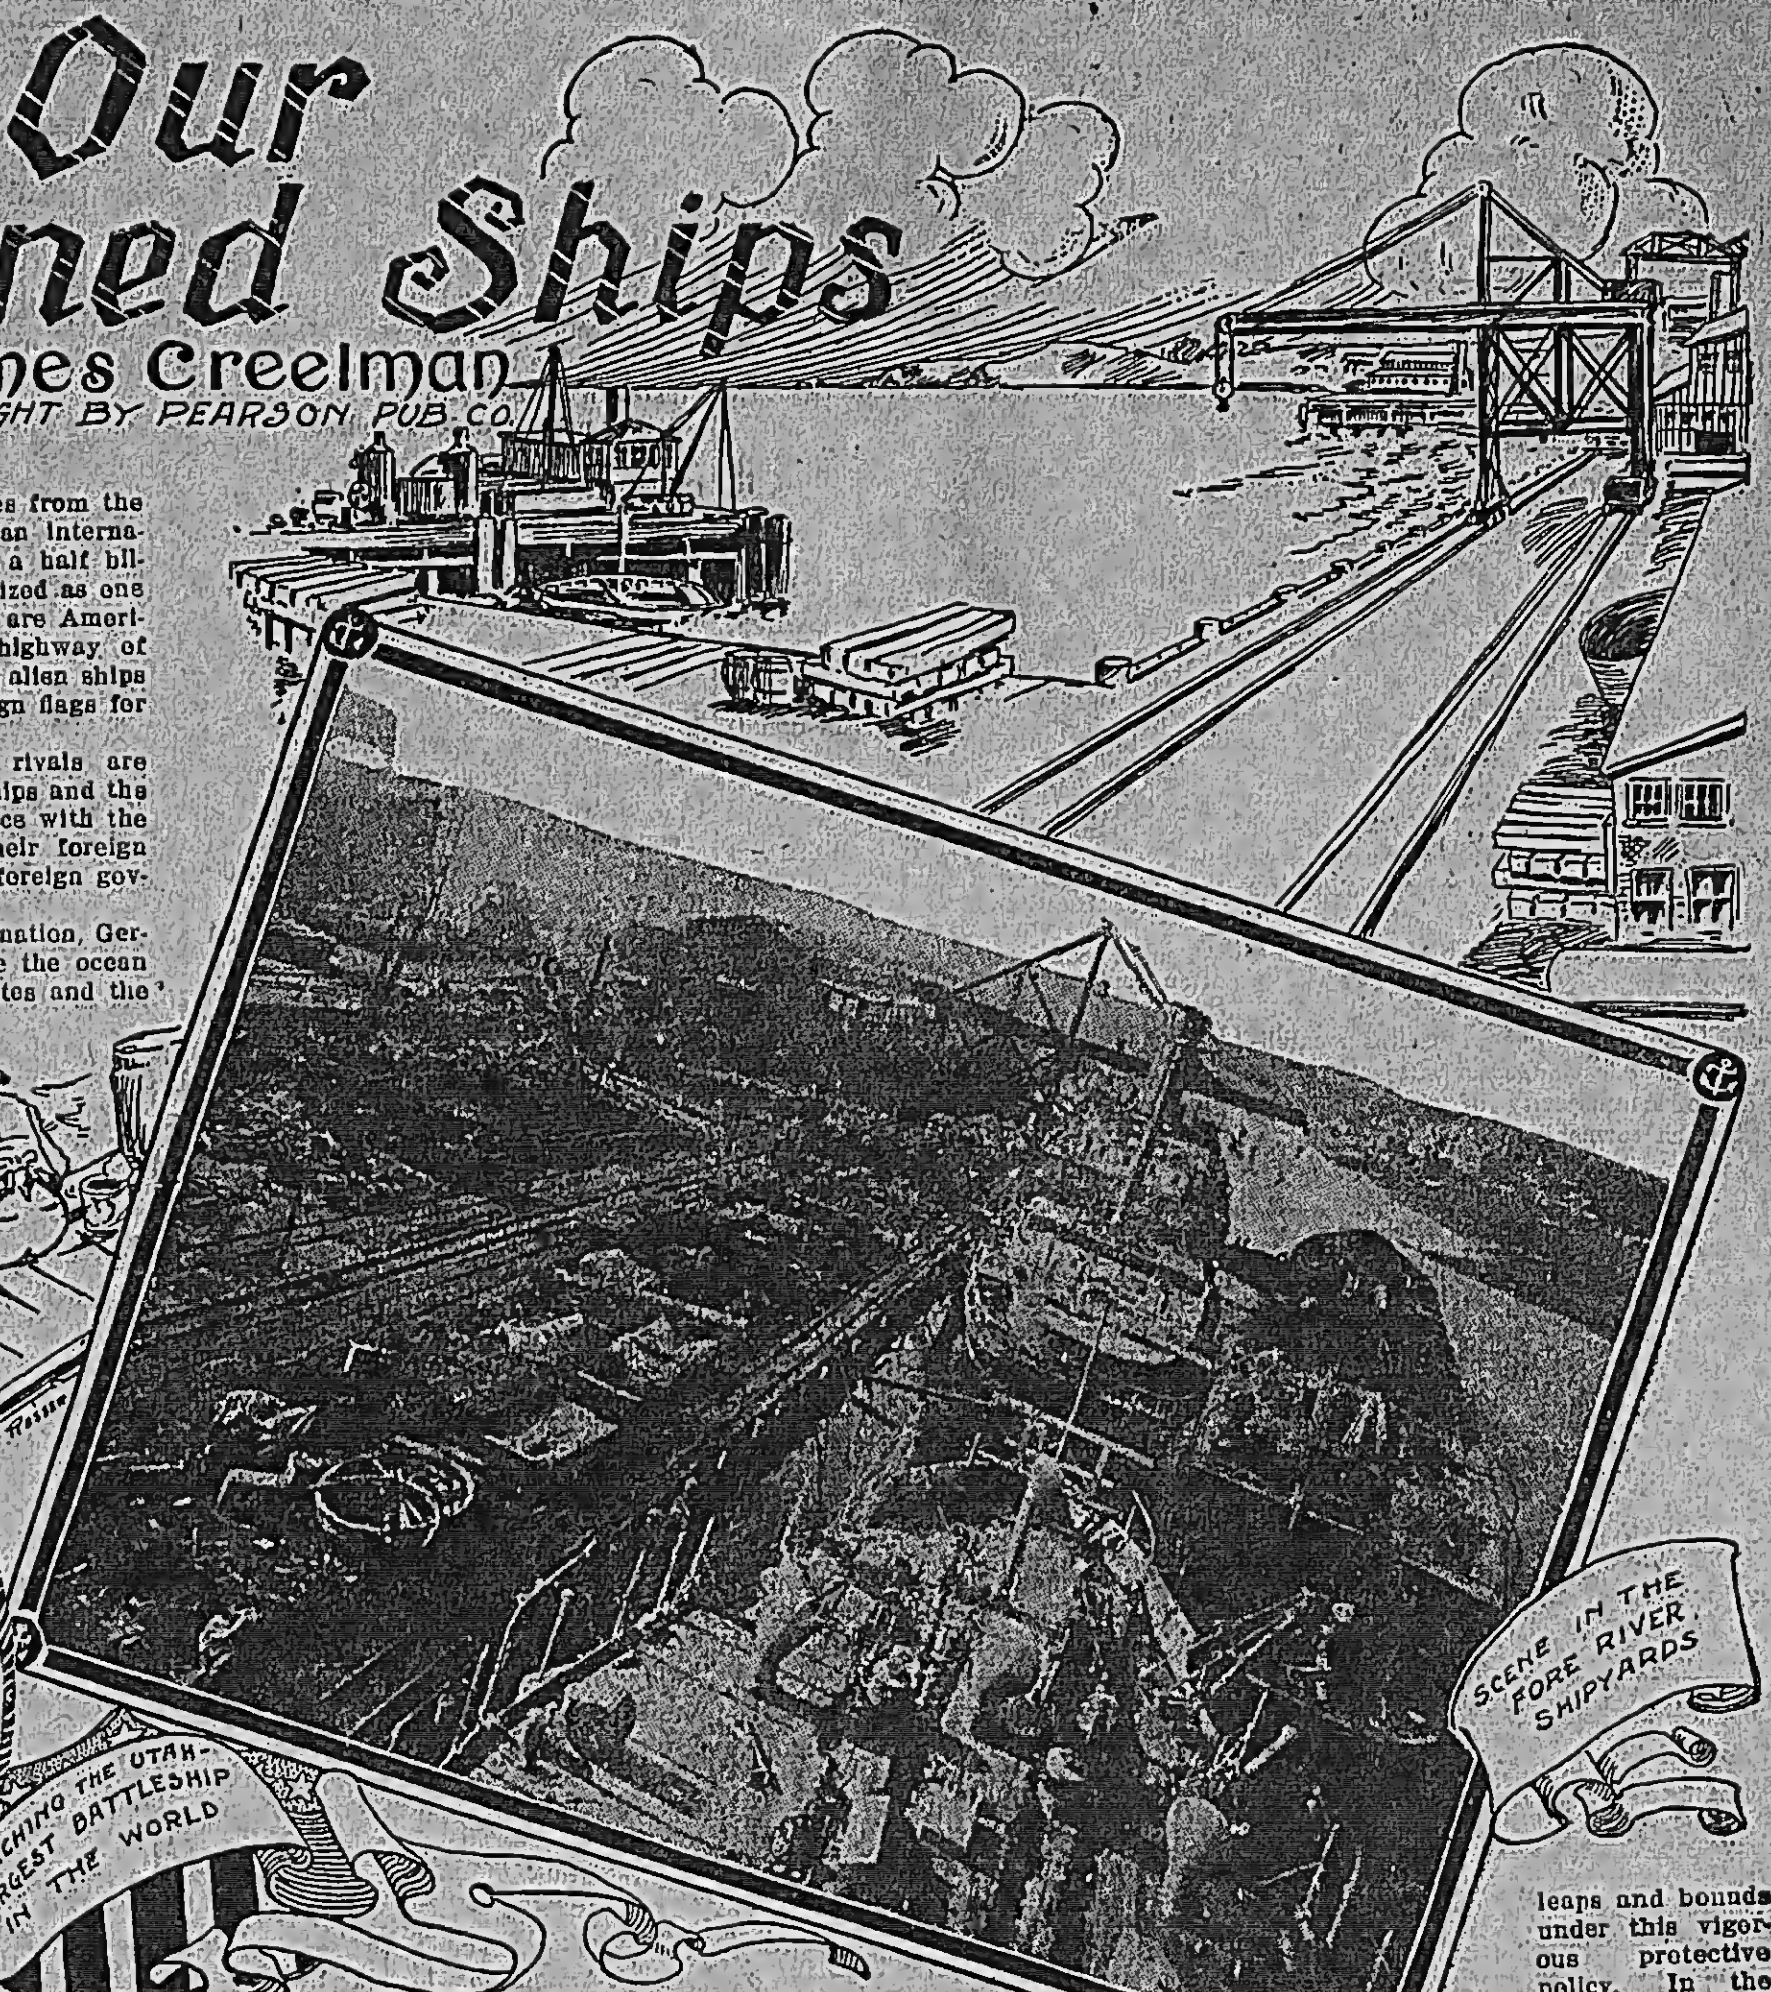

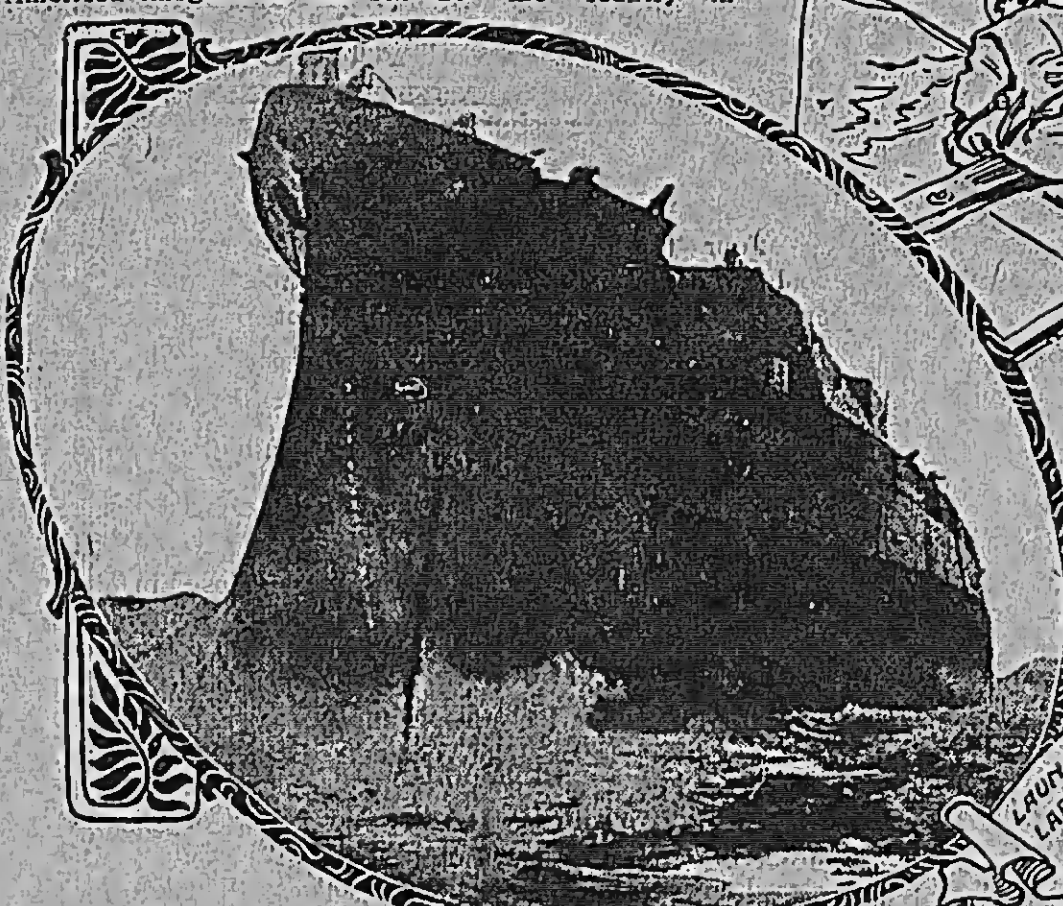

It was Washington who declared that "to an active, external commerce the protection of a naval force is indispensable."

We have set our government 7,000 miles from the American continent; we have developed an international commerce amounting to three and a half billion dollars, and we insist on being recognized as one of the great world powers; yet so swiftly are American ships vanishing from the common highway of nations that we have to trust our mails to alien ships and our armed fleet must depend on foreign flags for coal.

Meanwhile our British and German rivals are launching greater and swifter merchant ships and the people of the United States are face to face with the plain fact that already nine-tenths of their foreign trade is in foreign ships, dependent upon foreign governments for protection.

A war between England and a foreign nation, Germany, for example, would almost paralyze the ocean transportation facilities of the United States and the results would be felt throughout the country in leaps and bounds under this vigorous protective policy. In the seven years lying between 1789 and 1796 American merchant

West Indies reached the impressive sum of about $18,000,000 a year.

Who can think of the American war for independence and the part which American merchant ships played in that struggle without a feeling of deep humilia-shipping in the foreign trade rose from 123,893 tons to 576,733 tons. Before the discriminating tariff for the protection of ships was adopted only 17 per cent. of American imports were carried under the American flag. Within five years foreign ships had been almost expelled from American international commerce.

Everywhere, everywhere the fame of the American ship and the American merchant was spread. The American flag was carried to the remotest parts of the earth. In those days American statesmen knew the national value of a merchant marine.

Alas, the armed struggle between France and Great Britain which opened the nineteenth century brought Britain which opened the nineteenth century brought temporary ruin to American shipping, just as American men-of-war under Preble, Decatur and Rogers smashed the barbarous corsair power of the emperor of Morocco and the boy of Tunis, leaving the waters of the Mediterranean safe for American ships.

At first the conflict between Napoleon and Great Britain compelled the transfer of European ships to the American flag. The carrying trade of Europe was in American hands.

Then the American sugar trade was killed by a British blockade of the French and Dutch West Indies. The British also searched our ships at sea and impressed our sailors into their navy under the claim that a naturalized citizen of British birth was still a Briton. In 1806 and 1807 there were 6,000 Americans serving unwillingly in the British navy. American merchant ships were confiscated on all sorts of pretexts. They were elopped and searched by British naval com-moders even in American waters. Great Britain in 1808 declared a blockade of the European coast between Brest and the river Elbe. Napoleon answered by a decree blockading the coasts of England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales. Later on he ordered the confiscation of all neutral ships accepting British protection or paying British duties.

These were paralyzing blows to American shipping. President Jefferson answered the wholesale seizure of our ships and sailors by persuading congress to forbid American vessels to engage in foreign trade.

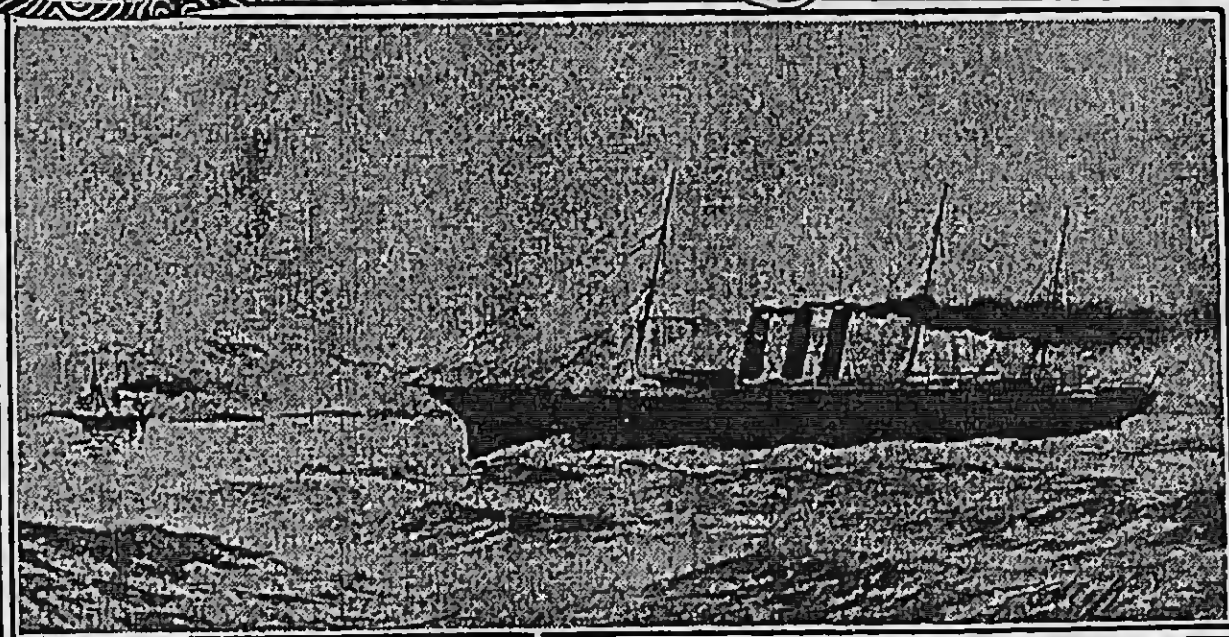

In 1812, when the United States at last responded to British outrages on our shipping by declaring war, the policy of Jefferson had allowed the American navy to shrink to 23 vessels carrying 566 guns. This small force captured 254 British ships valued with their cargoes at $6,000,000.

But the debt which America owes to her merchant marine in that second war for independence can be partly estimated by the fact that the armed American privateers numbered 617, with 2,893 guns, and captured 1,300 of the enemy's ships and cargoes, valued at $30,000,000.

In spite of the vexatious efforts of Great Britain to injure our maritime interests, American shipping continued to increase. It was not only the magnificent packet ships of the North Atlantic and the wonderful clipper ships of a later day that gave renown to the American shipyard and sailor, but the witnesses of American ships and the courage and initiative of their merchant owners in every sea—even in the rich Asiatic trade—gave such an impetus to American sea enterprise that in 1861 our shipping tonnage almost exactly equaled the whole tonnage of Great Britain.

To-day our entire tonnage, including our coastwise trade, from which all foreign ships are excluded, is only one-third of the British tonnage, although our foreign trade has increased from $508,864,375 in 1861 to $3,315,272,503 in 1907. Our foreign trade has increased to more than six times its size in 1861, while our ships in foreign trade have shrunk from 2,496,894 tons to 940,088 tons.

American shipowners to-day frankly acknowledge that it is the high price of American labor, both in construction and operation of ships that has driven and is still driving our flag from foreign trade.

THE YALE (S.S. PARIS) CAPTURING THE SPANISH S.S. RITTI

enormously increased freight charges.

There is a brave, prosperous and glorious past that makes the present seem all the more weak and shameful.

Nothing in the history of the American people has more of the thrill of romantic adventure, steady courage, keen enterprise and shrewd, substantial accomplishment than the story of the once matchless ships and seamen of the American merchant marine.

It makes of blood run faster to-day to know that no foreign yacht can wrest the queen's cup from American seamanship; but what is that to the once continuous victories of our merchantmen throughout the world, to the pride of American ships that could outsell all rivals, lead in all sea trade and, when turned into means of war, make the American flag a terror in all waters?

It was armed American merchant ships that paralyzed British sea commerce in the struggle for independence.

It was armed American merchant ships that humbled the pride of England in the war of 1812.

In the beginning it was only natural that civilized Americans should become ship builders and sailors. The colonists set on the shores of the Atlantic, with a savage, trackless continent behind them and before them the great ocean, beyond which lay the civilization and markets of Europe, were, out of the very nature of things, drawn to the sea.

They had forests of the finest timber growing down to the edge of the salt water and they were an energetic and practical people. A year after the Puritan colonists settled at Salem and Boston the armed trading ship Blessing of the Bay, the first deep sea vessel of Massachusetts, was built at Medford.

In 1740 New England had at least a thousand sail in the fishing trade. Commerce with Europe grew. In 1769 the colonists built 389 vessels, with a total tonnage aggregating 20,000 tons. And there were shipyards in New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia.

The British shipyards could not compete with America. The British forests were largely depleted, while the Americans had a glorious supply of white oak, live oak, white pine, yellow pine and all the materials, save metal fastenings, necessary for the construction of ships, growing right at the margin of the ocean.

English shipwrights swarmed across to the colonies. In 1724 the shipbuilders of the Thames uttered a public outcry against the departure of their most skilled workmen to America.

The mother country steadily worked to break the American shipbuilding industry. But all in vain.

At the time of the revolution the tonnage of American ships was 398,000 tons, almost a third of the entire British tonnage and American trade with the British tion that we have sunk to such an insignificant rank on salt water to-day?

The colonies let loose their seamen upon the commerce of their haughty enemy. Their merchant ships had long carried cannon and gunners. Fighting was a part of commercial seamanship in those piratical days. In 1781 the thirty cruisers of the continental navy had dwindled down to nine, while the American privateers amounted to 449, with 6,735 guns, all manned by merchant sailors and directed by private owners.

These armed merchant ships not only scoured the seas in all directions, sweeping British commerce away, but they even hung on the British coast and captured the very linen vessels. The linen fleet passing between Ireland and England had to be, for the first time, conveyed by men-of-war.

So gallantly did the American privateers outwit or outrun the king's cruisers and prey on the king's commerce that before the end of the war they had captured or destroyed something like $12,000,000 worth of British property, to say nothing of the terrific loss occasioned by the general interruption of British commerce. And it is not difficult to understand, aside from all other things, that the merchant ships built of American trees, in American shipyards and manned by American sailors, made the purse-sensitive British all the more eager to abandon the struggle with America.

What could the United States do to-day, under similar circumstances, with practically no deep sea merchant marine and with a steam navy that has to depend for any unusual effort upon foreign ships and foreign crews to secure an adequate coal supply?

It is not a fact that the American members of The Hague International conference continue to plead with other great nations to respect goods carried in neutral ships during war? And why? because only 10 per cent. of American international commerce goes under the American flag and we must depend upon the flags of other nations to protect the other 90 per cent.

In 1794 the tariff weapon was used to protect American ships, when congress abandoned the 10 per cent. reduction in duties on cargoes carried in American ships and, instead, added 10 per cent. to the duties on merchandise imported in foreign ships.

American shipbuilding and ocean commerce grew by Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a brick dust sediment, or settling, stringy or milky appearance often indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back are also symptoms that tell you the kidneys and bladder are out of order and need attention.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills almost every wish to correcting rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. Corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Mention this paper and remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Card of Thanks

I wish to express my most heartfelt thanks to my friends and neighbors for their kindness and assistance during the sickness and death of my wife and especially do I wish to thank those who furnished the music. Frank Klein.

Why Kettles Sing.
The reason a kettle "sings" is a very simple one. As the water gets hot little bubbles of steam rise, found at the bottom of the kettle. These in their rush upward strike the sides of the kettle and set the metal in vibration, thus causing the humming sound we call singing. You will notice a copper kettle, which has thin sides, will make a much louder and more musical note than a common iron kettle.

We wish to express our most heartfelt thanks to our many friends and neighbors for their sympathy and aid during the sickness and death of our daughter, and especially do we wish to thank those who furnished music and flowers. Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Willey

Pure iron is only a laboratory preparation. Cast iron, the most generally useful variety, contains about five per cent. of impurities, and the curious thing is that it owes its special value to the presence of these. Pure iron can be shaved with a pocket knife; impure iron can be made almost as hard as steel.

STRIKERS MAKE GAIN

CANVASS OF SHOPS AND MILLS SHOWS 100,000 MEN IDLE.

QUAKER CITY FREE OF RIOTS

Labor Leaders Jubilant Over Number of Non-Unionists Who Have Quit—Gompers Planning Giant Walk-Out.

Philadelphia, Pa.—The sympathetic strike called to help the cause of the street car employees who have been out for two weeks has developed an unexpected strength.

Disregarding the extravagant claims of the strike leaders, who said that between 125,000 and 150,000 workers had left loom and bench, and disregarding, likewise, the claims of the police and Rapid Transit Company, who declared that only 18,000 had quit, a leading newspaper of this city Monday made a mill to mill and shop to shop canvass and visited every affected part of the city.

Its report was: 100,000 men and women have joined the 6,000 motor-men and conductors. More than that number, according to the talk of those already on strike, will be out today.

The impartial investigators found that the "sympathetic strikers" were divided about as follows:

Building trades, 30,000; Hobbey trades (clothing, etc.), 30,000; textile trades, 12,000; unskilled workmen depending upon skilled textile unionists, 20,000; and miscellaneous, 8,000.

These figures may be taken as at least fairly accurate. Certainly there were no less than 75,000 or 80,000 idle men upon the streets of the city. An automobile tour through all the Kensington and Richmond districts in the northeast section of the town proved that conclusively. In that section alone there must have been 50,000 persons on the streets who would not have been there on a normal day.

Yet with all there was less rioting than any day has witnessed since the beginning of the car men's strike. There was only one sizeable fight, and not very much damage was done in that.

The leaders of the strike professed to be jubilant over the way that not only union but non-union workers turned out and behaved themselves.

Chicago.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who has been in the city since Saturday, is planning for the calling of a general strike of street car employees in every large city in the country in sympathy with the Philadelphia car men, according to dispatches that reached Chicago from the eastern strike center.

All Monday morning Mr. Gompers and other labor leaders were in conference in his apartments in the Kalerhof hotel. Repeated efforts were made to see the labor chief, but he would receive no one except his conferees.

It was rumored in labor circles, however, that the subject of a nation-wide strike was under discussion in the conference.

Cleveland, Pittsburg, Omaha and San Francisco, it is said, will be the first cities to be given the general walkout order, if the plans are carried out. These were selected by the labor head because the Philadelphia company has large holdings in the railway systems of those cities.

CUDAHY KNIFES A BANKER

Son of Omaha Packer Finds Jere S. Lillis with Wife, Severely Wounds Him.

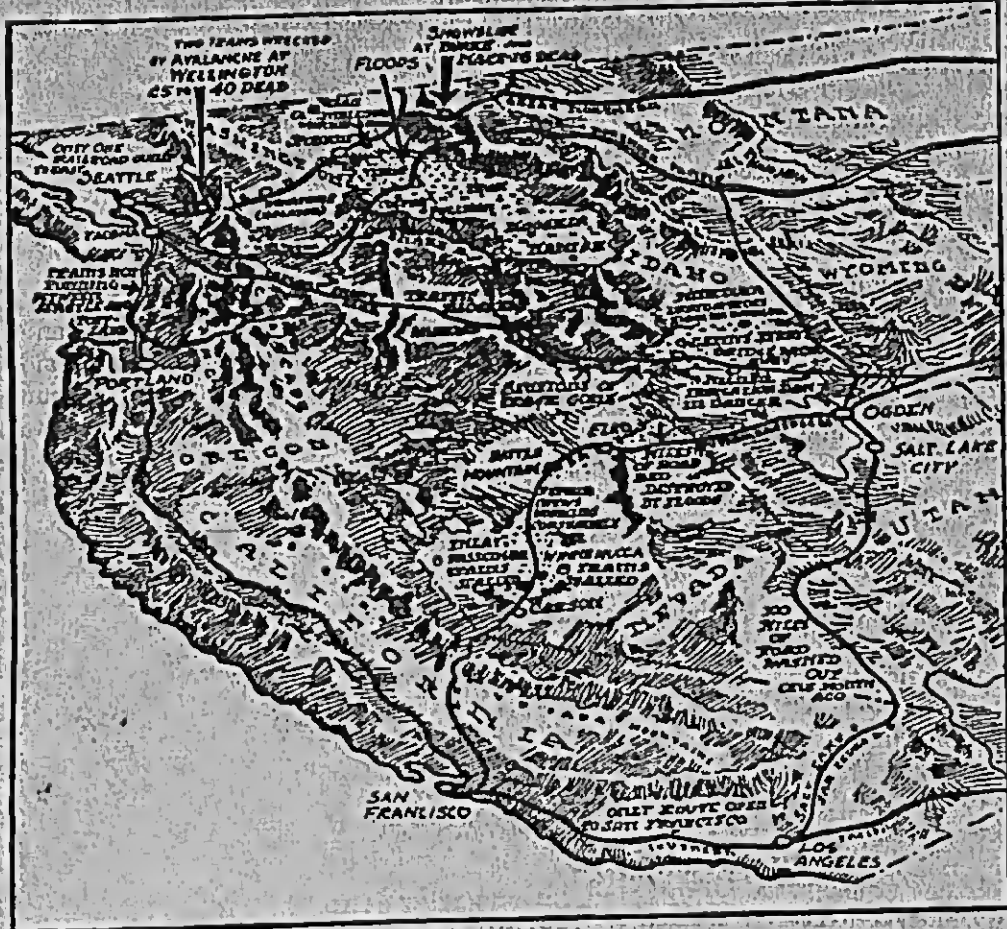

Kansas City, Mo.—Jere S. Lillis, president of the Western Exchange bank, who was mutilated with a knife early Sunday morning when John P. Cudahy, son of the wealthy Omaha packer, came home and found him with Mrs. Cudahy, was Monday removed to his home. He will recover.

His wounds, while severe, are not dangerous, but he will be scarred for life. Jack Cudahy, who was arrested by a policeman who rushed into the house after Mrs. Cudahy had appealed for aid, was given a continuance and will be tried on a charge of disturbing the peace next Monday. He is under a $101 bond.

Mrs. Cudahy, in an interview, declared that she and Lillis had been automobile driving, had taken dinner at the Baltimore hotel, which was a common affair for them. He had taken her home and she had asked him to come into the house. She said that they were seated in the library of the home, casually discussing commonplaces, when her husband, accompanied by his chauffeur, Johann Moss, had appeared from practically nowhere. They had attacked Mr. Lillis, bound and gagged him, and Mr. Cudahy, whom she declares is of a jealous nature, proceeded to carve him with a big butcher knife.

WEALTH IS TO AID HUMANITY

ROCKEFELLER PLANS GREAT CORPORATION FOR HIS FORTUNE.

Bill introduced in Congress Provides for an Organization Which Will Benefit Mankind.

Washington.—For the benefit of his fellow men John D. Rockefeller is seeking a method of disposing of his vast fortune.

Under the provision of a bill introduced in the Senate Wednesday by Senator Jacob H. Gallinger of New Hampshire the oil king seeks a federal incorporation act for his wealth, with a view to distributing it under proper supervision for the good of mankind. The object of the foundation is to provide for a general organization to conduct philanthropic work along all lines.

According to the bill the Rockefeller foundation is organized for these purposes: To promote the well-being and advance the civilization of the people of the United States and its possessions in foreign lands; for the acquisition and dissemination of knowledge; for the prevention of any and all of the elements of human knowledge.

The incorporators named in the bill are: John D. Rockefeller, John D. Rockefeller, Jr.; Fred T. Gates, Starr J. Murphy, Charles A. Hoyt.

These men are authorized to select associates not to exceed 25, and it is provided that there shall not be at any time fewer than five.

Headquarters of the foundation are to be in Washington.

"It is the evident intention of Mr. Rockefeller to provide a means of expending his wealth to the best advantage of the largest number of people," said Senator Gallinger.

It was stated by the senator that Mr. Rockefeller already had given away $52,000,000.

The proposed foundation is to be organized along lines similar to the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching.

Judge Blair fixed bail at $2,500.

LANDSLIDES KILL 92 MORE

Canadian Pacific Workers Buried Under Tons of Debris in Rogers Pass.

Vancouver, B. C.—Snowslides in the Rocky mountains have caused the death of 92 more men. The latest victims were workmen engaged in clearing the Canadian Pacific track in Rogers pass at the summit of the Selkirk range. They were entombed by an avalanche. Fourteen others were injured.

The men were attempting to clear away the debris of a smaller slide which occurred in the Arrow valley of Bear creek, flanked on either side by precipitous mountains covered with a depth of snow varying from twenty to fifty feet. While the men were trapped in this valley the second avalanche descended. It started on the side of the canyon opposite the point where the first slide occurred. Thousands of feet above, a low rolling mass of snow, growing in volume and momentum, started on a pathway of destruction.

The avalanche piled on top of the first slide, burying the tracks for a distance of a quarter of a mile around to a depth of 50 feet. Hundreds of thousands of tons of other debris in the wake of the avalanche bounded off the huge heap and half filled the valley of Bear creek, hundreds of feet below.

BALLINGER INQUIRY LAGS

Pinchot Again Accuses Secretary Having Made Misstatements and Deceived Taft.

Washington.—Interest in the Ballinger-Pinchot investigation continued to lag Friday as the cross-examination of Mr. Pinchot by Mr. Vertrees developed little which was not gone over in the evidence.

There was much quibbling between counsel and the witness as to the meaning and interpretation of certain statements Mr. Pinchot had made and opinions as to the understanding of various letters and documents. Mr. Pinchot again accused Secretary Ballinger of having made misstatements.

With reference to his claim that Mr. Ballinger had deceived the president concerning a decision of the comptroller of the treasury, Mr. Pinchot admitted that Mr. Ballinger's written statement to the president was "pretty fair, from Mr. Ballinger's point of view," and that the documents that he submitted were all that properly bore on the case. He insisted, however, there was the "unavoidable inference" that Mr. Ballinger had communicated in some other way with the president.

Mr. Ballinger's lawyer brought out that the co-operative agreement with the forest service, which Mr. Ballinger discontinued, was not the usual arrangement whereby one department lends its employees temporarily to another, but provided that employees of the interior department should be under the exclusive control and jurisdiction of the forester.

$12,000,000 for Buildings. Washington.—President Taft gave Representative Bartholdt of Missouri, chairman of the house committee on public buildings and grounds, his approval of a public building bill carrying not more than $12,000,000 to be passed at this session of congress. The president was given to understand that the measure would provide only for projects which are urgently necessary.

Do farmers eat the proper sort of food?

The farmer of today buys a much larger proportion of the food that goes on the table than he did ten years ago. It's a good thing that this is so because he has a great variety to select from.

He should, however, use great care in selecting for the best results in health and strength.

The widespread tendency in the city to increase the amount of Quaker Oats eaten is due very largely to the recent demonstrations by scientific men that the Quaker Oats food man is the man with greatest physical endurance and greatest mental vigor.

Farmers should give this subject careful thought and should increase the quantity of Quaker Oats eaten by themselves, their children and the farm hands.

Traveling Man Got Even.

A traveling man called on the manager of a large New York concern the other day and sent his card in by the boy at the outside gate. The boy, sauntering back lazily and told the traveling man that the manager wouldn't see him.

"Well, you go and ask him for the card I sent in," said the caller.

In a few minutes the boy returned with his second trip. "Say," remarked the boy, "the boss told me to tell you that he tore up that card, but he sent a nickel to you to pay for it."

The traveling man was deeply insulted, but he decided to get back as best he could. He opened his card case and drew out another card, handing it to the boy.

"Give this to your boss," he said, "and tell him that I'll keep the money. My cards are two for five. Much obliged."

The manager rushed out of the gate to find the traveling man, but he was too late. The man had left.

Analyzed by Chemists.

Apropos of President Taft and his recent decision about whiskey, Richard Lo Gallienne said at a dinner at the St. Regis:

"While I was living in Liverpool there arose a hot whiskey discussion. Was pot still whiskey the only wholesome one, or was patent still whiskey the one non-poisonous drink? Chemical analyses were applied to every whiskey going."

"A Liverpoolian entered a public house near the Albert docks one night and said:

"Is yer whiskey puro?" "Well, I should think so," the publican answered. "It's been paralyzed by three anarchists."

If She Had Her Choice.

A gentleman who finds great amusement in telling his wife which lady of their acquaintance he will select as her successor when she dies, and who, one day, had been teasing her with numberless mock-serious allusions to the subject, suddenly called their little daughter to him and asked her, shaking with laughter at his own wit: "Madeline, how would you like to have a stepmother?"

The child considered for a moment and then, with great earnestness replied:

"I think I'd much rather have a stepfather."

Why She Needed More Nights Off.

Having recently engaged an 18-year-old colored girl to do housework a New York woman was adjusting the various questions of privileges.

"You will have Monday and Thursday nights off, Eliza," the mistress of the house said.

"Only Monday n' Thursday nights!" the other exclaimed, rolling her eyes. "My Lawd, M's, dat won't do nohow; dat ain't enough. You see, ma'am, I's a debutante."

CHANGE THE VIBRATION

It Makes for Health.

A man tried leaving off meat, potatoes, coffee, and etc., and adopted a breakfast of fruit, Grape-Nuts with cream, some crisp toast and a cup of Postum.

His health began to improve at once for the reason that a meat eater will reach a place once in a while where his system seems to become clogged, and the machinery doesn't work smoothly.

A change of this kind puts aside food of low nutritive value and takes up food and drink of the highest value, already partly digested and capable of being quickly changed into good, rich blood and strong tissue.

A most valuable feature of Grape-Nuts is the natural phosphate of potash grown in the grains from which it is made. This is the element which transforms albumen in the body into the soft gray substance which fills brain and nerve centers.

A few days' use of Grape-Nuts will give one a degree of nervous strength well worth the trial.

Not Appropriate. Senator Beveridge was replying at a dinner in Washington to a defender of the sugar trust.

FEAR DEADLY RIOTS

QUAKER CITY INDUSTRIES ARE PARALYZED BY BIG STRIKE.

ESTIMATED 75,000 MEN OUT

City Officials Refuse to Take Part in Plan for Settling Difficulty—Man Fatally Shot—Dozens Clubbed by Police.

Philadelphia.—The industries of this city are practically paralyzed because of the general strike that started Friday at midnight.

Probably 75,000 workmen have thrown down their tools and walked out of their shops, determined not to return until the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company arrives at some sort of an agreement with its striking employees.

Every branch of industry has felt the deadening power of the walk-out. Street car traffic is virtually abandoned. Mills and factories are closed down, restaurants are seriously affected, cab drivers have stopped hauling passengers to show their sympathy for the street car men.

Disorders have spread from the Kensington district to every part of town. Clashes between the police are frequent, and the general public fear is growing stronger hourly that unless something is done to end the trouble there will be riots that will result in heavy loss of life, together with acts of vandalism and incendiarism that will cost great property losses.

Mayor Reborn and the city council have refused to take any part in any scheme that might bring about an adjustment of the differences between the street car men and the company.

The labor leaders assert that their "general sympathetic strike" will assume surprising proportions, although they make no estimate of the number who will walk out. The police and the officials of the Rapid Transit Company say that the general strike will turn out to be a fizzle and that in a couple of days not only the striking motormen and conductors, but those who are striking in sympathy with them will be begging to have their jobs back.

Meanwhile, however, the police are still having their hands full with rioters. One man was fatally shot Sunday, several dozen were beaten by the police or run down by policemen's horses, and auto trucks and patrol wagons clanged about in brisk fashion, carrying reinforcements to the troublesome neighborhoods and carting back prisoners to the city hall.

EX-SENATOR T. C. PLATT DEAD

Succumbs to Bright's Disease, Aged 76 Years, at His Home in Albany.

New York.—Former United States Senator Thomas C. Platt died Sunday at his home in this city at the age of 76 years.

His long life ended as a slender cord might snap in twain.

By reason of their regular visits to their father rather than from a belief that the end was near, his three sons, Frank, Edward and Harry, and Mrs. Frank Platt, were at his bedside in the apartments of Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Ahels, with whom the senator has made his home for the past five years. Dr. Paul Outerbridge, the family physician, and Mr. and Mrs. Ahels also were present.

Senator Platt had rallied from a sinking spell which sent him to bed early in the afternoon and was chatting on topics of the news when the doctor arrived and he playfully joked the physician about the coming time when his services would not be needed.

Propped up in bed he took part in the small talk of those present for 15 minutes after the arrival of the physician. Then a tremor passed through his frail frame and by the time Dr. Outerbridge reached the side of his patient, Senator Platt was dead.

For four years Senator Platt had been a chronic sufferer from Bright's disease and occasionally experienced sinking spells.

CANNON DINES WITH TAFT

Speaker Is Entertained at White House for First Time in Many Years.

Washington.—President Taft gave a dinner last night at the White House in honor of Speaker Cannon. Socially and politically the affair marked something of an epoch, for not before in many years has a president entertained in honor of the speaker of the house of representatives.

Speaker Cannon was never entertained at the White House with an exclusive official function during all of the seven years of President Roosevelt's occupancy, and no previous affair has been given in his honor by President Taft.

60 PERISH IN A MINE BLAST

EXPLOSION OF POWDER BLOWS MINERS TO FRAGMENTS.

Crash Occurs in 1,100-Foot Level—Men Caught in Trap—100 Are Seriously Injured.

Juneau, Alaska.—By the explosion of a powder magazine in the Mexican shaft of the Treadwell mines Thursday, 60 miners, caught like rats in a trap, at the 1,100-foot level, were blown to fragments and 100 others were seriously injured, many of whom it is feared may die.

The bodies of the dead were blown into unrecognizable masses of human flesh. The scene when a rescuing party descended to the level, was indescribable. The dead were lying around, piled one on the top of the other and the groans and screams of the injured were heartrending.

It is believed that more of the injured will succumb to their injuries. There is a deplorable lack of medical men and in the company hospitals, which are crowded to the limit, the mangled miners are suffering for want of medical attention.

The cause of the accident is not known at this time. It is believed, however, that the explosion is the result of a miner's lamp coming in contact with the powder magazine. Not a man in the portion of the mine where the explosion occurred escaped injury.

The scenes about the mouth of the mine are pitiful. The families of the miners are gathered about the entrance to the shaft and as the bodies are carried from the death trap, there is a wild rush to get near enough to make an effort at identification.

So badly are the bodies torn and mangled that the only possible means of identification in most cases has been by the clothing or property found in the pockets.

EXPOSES BIG OLEO FRAUDS

Witness Links Representative Moxley's Firm with Illicit Dealers Who Are Under Indictment.

Chicago.—Sensation after sensation broke out in the oleomargarine scandal Thursday. Chief of the disclosures consisted of a detailed account under oath by an employee of William Broadwell of the relations of William J. Moxley, Inc., manufacturer of butterine, with the illicit dealers now under indictment for coloring oleomargarine and selling the colored product without paying to the government the tax of ten cents a pound required by the federal statute.

William P. Moxley, head of the butterine manufacturing house, is co-grossman from the Sixth district.

The testimony implicating the Moxley house was given by William Bortz, who, with Samuel Driesbach, appeared before Judge Landis to plead guilty and receive sentence.

Bortz swore that the Moxley business concern sold to Broadwell the uncolored butterine, delivering it after seven o'clock at night, gave away with it the coloring matter in bottles, told Broadwell's employees how to use it, even to the point of telling them to cover up the holes of the store where it was mixed so no light could shine through, and also sold wrappers for one-pound packages stamped: "Inspected and Passed by the Pure Food Department of the United States Government."

Witness also testified that Moxley's people delivered these wrappers after the evening closing hours.

"JACK" CUDAHY IS ARRESTED

Is Charged with Probably Fatally Assaulting Banker Lillie of Kansas City.

Kansas City, Mo.—J. S. Lillie, millionaire president of the Western Exchange bank and member of an old and prominent Kansas City family, lies at the point of death in Mary's hospital from injuries inflicted in the home of "Jack" Cudahy, son of the Omaha packer.

Mr. Cudahy, who is manager of a Kansas City packing house, was arrested and taken to the police station, where he was charged with assault and held for several hours, but not locked up. Upon the arrival of his attorney Cudahy was released under bond of $100.

Mrs. Cudahy, acting on the advice of counsel refused to discuss the affair, merely saying: "Mr. Cudahy will get his deserts."

Patrolman Underwood, the arresting officer, stated that he received a call to go at once to the Cudahy home. Upon his arrival at the house, he saw Mrs. Cudahy in the hall, he says, and in the library, lying on the floor, he found Lillie, tied with a rope, cut, bruised and bleeding.

STOMACH CENTER OF HUMAN LIFE—ALL ELSE SECONDARY

The immense success which has followed L. T. Cooper during the past year with his new preparation has exceeded anything of the kind ever before witnessed in most of the leading cities where the young man has introduced the medicine. Cooper has a novel theory. He believes that the human stomach is directly responsible for most disease. To quote his own words from an interview upon his arrival in an eastern city: "The average man or woman cannot be sick if the stomach is working properly. To be sure, there are diseases of a virulent nature, such as cancer, tuberculosis, diabetes, etc., which are organic, and are not traceable to the stomach, but even fevers can, in many cases, be traced to something taken into the stomach. All of this half-sick, nervous exhaustion that is now so common, is caused by stomachic conditions, and it is because my remedy will and does regulate the stomach that I am meeting with such success."

"To sum the matter up—a sound digestive apparatus that is doing its full duty, getting every particle of vitality out of the food by transferring it to the bowels in a perfectly digested state—this above all else brings health."

Mr. A. C. Brock, chef of the Brock Restaurant, Market District, Boston, Mass., who is a staunch believer in Mr. Cooper's theory and medicine, has this to say: "I had chronic indigestion for over three years. I suffered terribly, and lost about thirty pounds. I was a physical wreck when I started this Cooper medicine, a month or so ago. To-day I am as well as I ever was in my life. I am no longer nervous, my food does not distress me in the least, and I have a splendid appetite. I am gaining flesh very rapidly—in fact, at the rate of a pound a day. I would not believe any medicine on earth could have done for me what this has done. It is a remarkable preparation, and Mr. Cooper deserves all his success."

Cooper's New Discovery is sold by all druggists. If your druggist cannot supply you, we will forward you the name of a druggist in your city who will. Don't accept "something just as good."—The Cooper Medicine Co., Dayton, Ohio.

KICKED PASTOR DOWN STAIRS

Hasty Act of Vestryman That Minister Has So Far Found It Hard to Forget.

A certain Episcopal clergyman in West Philadelphia received a most inhospitable reception the other night when he went to call on a member of his vestry. The vestryman in question was alone in the house, the servants being out, when he heard a ring at the bell. Going down stairs he found an intoxicated negro, who demanded money for a drink. Highly incensed, the vestryman went back up stairs, after ordering the man away, but he found he had been deceived when the bell rang for a second time.

A second visit to the door found the same negro back again, and the vestryman, thoroughly aroused, seized the offender by the shoulder and pushed him down the steps.

While all this was going on the clergyman was walking down the street, and a few minutes later had mounted the steps of his vestryman's house and rung the bell. He stood with his back to the door, when suddenly, to his astonishment, the portal flew open, a man rushed out and he received a most painful kick, sending him flying down the slippery steps. It required a lot of explanation and apology to close the breach caused by the incident. The clergyman and his vestryman are still on rather cool terms.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. It is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. It is a disease of the blood, and the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

CONVINCING PROOF

OF THE VIRTUE OF Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

What is the use of procrastinating in the face of such evidence as the following letters represent? If you are a sick woman or know one who is, what sensible reason have you for not giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial? For 30 years we have been publishing such testimonial letters as these—thousands of them—they are genuine and honest, too, every one of them.

Mrs. S. J. Barber says:

"I think Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the best medicine in the world for women—and I feel it my duty to let others know the good it has done for me. Three years ago I had a tumor which the doctor said would have to be removed by an operation or I could not live more than a year or two, at most. I wrote Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for advice and took 14 bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and today the tumor is gone and I am a perfectly well woman. I hope my testimonial will be of benefit to others."—Mrs. S. J. BARBER, Scott, N. Y.

Mrs. E. F. Hayes says:

"I was under the doctor's treatment for a fibroid tumor. I suffered with pain, soreness, bloating, and could not walk or stand on my feet any length of time. I wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice, followed her directions and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. To-day I am a well woman; the tumor was expelled and my whole system strengthened. I advise all women who are afflicted with tumors or female troubles to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. E. F. HAYES, 1800 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge.

Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

Mrs. George May says:

"No one knows what I have suffered from female troubles, neuralgia, pains, and backache. My doctor said he could not give me anything to cure it. Through the advice of a friend I began to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and the pain soon disappeared. I continued its use and am now in perfect health. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been a God-send to me as I believe I should have been in my grave if it had not been for Mrs. Pinkham's advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. GEORGE MAY, 88 4th Ave., Paterson, N. J.

Mrs. W. K. Housh says:

"I have been completely cured of a severe female trouble by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and want to recommend it to all suffering women."—Mrs. W. K. HOUSH, 7 Eastview Ave., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has cured many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, etc.

Kansas Takes 1,000 Overland Cars

20 Per Cent Reduction

The Overland's success is also due to its price. No other maker ever gave nearly so much for the money.

Yet we have cut our price this year about 20 per cent through enormous increase in production.

The Overland we sell for $1,000 this year is better than the $1,200 Overland last year. It is a 23 H. P. car with a speed of 60 miles an hour.

So with the $1,250, $1,400 and $1,500 Overlands. Each offers a fifth more than ever before for the money.

All prices include Magneto and full lamp equipment.

The Overland story is one of the greatest business stories ever told. It tells how this car—the creation of a mechanical genius—has in two years reached the topmost place in this field. And it tells all about the car. Send us this coupon today for this book.

Two Ways.

One man sees a raccoon or squirrel close at hand, and is greatly interested in its wild beauty and pleasing independence. Another man sees it, and mourns for his gun that he might kill it, out of pure love of slaughter. Its innocence and love of life mean nothing to him. One enjoys the brotherhood of all life—great and small; the other would shed sorrow and trouble on the innocent.—Farm Journal.

The Opening of Our New Furniture Dep't

THE opening of this new department will be appreciated in many a Lake County home as it means a complete revelation in the prices of furniture in this locality. The low expense at which we are able to maintain this department is directly responsible for the low prices at which we shall sell. We own our own building so have no rent to pay, and the new department incurs no extra lighting, heating or general expenses; the space devoted to this department being made by the removal and condensing of other sections. The absence of these additional expenses enables us to conduct the department on a wonderfully economical basis and to undersell any exclusive furniture store by a vast margin.

High Grade Dependable Furniture

We not only desire to impress you with the actual money saving advantages that our prices bring you, but also with the fact that our lines of furniture represent the best and most reliable makes in the country and were selected with careful discretion.

We Guarantee Every Piece of Furniture

The one price policy which prevails throughout all of our departments will be strictly adhered to in the furniture department as well. Every article is marked in plain figures and our full guarantee goes with every purchase. We refund money upon any unsatisfactory purchase. Deliveries made to any distance.

Cash or Easy Payments

We give our customers the advantage of a most liberal credit plan, allowing them to make payments to suit their own personal convenience.

The Doctor's First Question

"How are your bowels?" This is generally the first question the doctor asks. He knows what a sluggish liver means. He knows what a long list of distressing complaints result from constipation. He knows that headaches, bilious attacks, indigestion, impure blood, and general debility are often promptly relieved by a good liver pill. We wish you would talk with your own doctor about this subject. Ask him at the same time if he approves of Ayer's Pills. Do as he says. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

SPRINGTIME SALE

Especial Showing of the New Spring Merchandise With the Added Attraction of Most Exceptional Early Season Values

Once again this store does the unusual. Most stores are satisfied at this season of the year to merely assemble a bewildering array of merchandise, more or less indicative of the reigning modes. This store's success has come from defying precedence--doing the different things first. It is in a line with this policy that now on the threshold of a new season we offer the most complete and comprehensive showing of Spring merchandise we have ever gathered, at the lowest possible price, combining a style show of extraordinary beauty with most remarkable values. Sale ends Saturday, March 20th.

In order to give added zest to this great showing we have taken from our regular stock (by actual count) over one hundred items and priced them at prices which represent sensational savings. Every article is new and desirable.

Coming to this store at this time therefore accomplishes two desired results. It gives an authoritative picture of the reigning styles in the world of fashion and permits the obtaining of wanted Spring needs at prices which will rule elsewhere only when the season is nearly over.

NEW YORK APPAREL SHOW

A FIRST GLIMPSE OF THE NEW STYLES
AS SEEN AT THE METROPOLIS

Madison Square Garden, New York, on January 25th of this year, had the most unique style exposition ever held in America. Admittance to this exposition was extended to approximately fifteen hundred of the leading stores in America--the Lyon store being the only representative from Lake County.

A BEWILDERING VARIETY.

Over one hundred garments, representing an investment of thousands of dollars, were shown. Among some of the most attractive models were those of French origin.

CHARMING SUIT BY DRECOL.

and one that will be found in a modified form in our suit department, was a serge suit, with a thirty-two inch coat cut away to form a "V" in front. Three rows of braid formed a border around the sides. The skirt was pleated all around.

BY PAQUIN AND DOUCET.

A suit that attracted a great deal of attention, and which received the highest criticism from American designers, was shown in a beautiful shade of green serge of Russian Blouse design, trimmed with braid and motifs to match; a soft moiré shawl collar completed a charming effect. The skirt is a model pleated to a yoke side and slightly Tunic effect in the front. This was imported at a cost of several hundred dollars, but through the cleverness of a famous American designer we are showing a duplicate of this at a fraction of the cost of the import duty Uncle Sam charged on the original.

THE PAQUIN MODEL.

was a simple garment--a one-piece dress (made of fine French serge) with seamless sleeves.

NEW IDEAS IN SUMMER HANGINGS.

Nothing freshens up a room more effectively than a new set of hangings, and for the summer season the choice of light, dainty patterns is in general demand.

PRINCIPAL USES OF SUMMER DRAPERIES.

In actual use these fabrics form the hangings over doors, windows and other openings; covers for screens, boxes, etc.; mantle and bureau draperies, valances on beds, and in some instances they are used as covers for furniture.

THE MATERIALS.

Many of the fabrics which we are showing are printed on plain grounds, while others have small figures woven into the fabric. As a general rule, the plain weaves are printed in large designs, while those which are woven come in lighter and more delicate effects.

FOR THE SUMMER HOME.

The extension of such decorative features to include every room in a summer cottage or bungalow may be carried out according to the desire of the owner.

LOW COST A FEATURE.

A factor which has figured so strongly in popularizing our drapery section is the low cost of these fabrics. For 15c per yard we are showing a wide range of patterns, and at 25c you may carry out almost any idea.

STENCILING AND APPLIQUE.

A fad that is here to stay, and one which may be carried out at a very small outlay, are the new applique designs and stenciling. You may choose from a wide range of stencil patterns and we shall be glad to give you instructions without any extra charge.

Never Such an Interchanging of Fashions and Economy as at This Great Event

Authoritatively picturing the new fashions, presenting plentiful opportunities for superb savings, it is small wonder that this sale will establish new records for early season selling.

This is indeed an unique event. Unique in its purpose and its fulfillment. Many stores have Spring showings but few offer such exceptional opportunities for real savings.
